Mrs. McDevitt read Father's speech titled "The Breaking Point of the Restoration," given on Jan. 7, 1968.

"The mass movement, starting from Egypt, is happening in Libya and China, and it will go to North Korea and Korea. How can Korea survive? Today I came here to solve this. Nobody knows and nobody wants to know the breaking point of the restoration. Nobody is concerned about it reciprocally (to me)."

"To become the savior, one should have no relation with the human fall. I was born that way. You would say I was born from Adam's fallen blood lineage. I was not."

(To a Japanese member) "Who is reporting to the Japanese headquarters regarding the boats in Las Vegas? (It is Mr. Nada) From when? (From the beginning and I respect him.) You always behave like an owner on the boat and I have never seen him."

"The Moon tribe was consisted of members of the military and civil officials from Gogureyo (an ancient kingdom) in Korea. Why is Moon important? It is because everybody must pass through it to enter. (Katsumi: Father's family name is Moon and Father means here by Moon the Chinese character which is a gate)

"The four rules of arithmetic (addition, subtraction, multiplication and division) don't exist in God. In God everything must get bigger and bigger. 9×9 is 81 but it should be 91 or 102. Without solving this problem, there will be no world of peace. This is a serious problem."

After reading Father's prayer, Father briefly talked about the meaning of his calligraphy on the wall that he wrote on 8.22 by the H.C of the first year of Cheon-gi. These words became our motto 2011.
