These words are like my words from my diary

The following are from Hyung Jin Nim's twitter who is now in Geneva. Please be advised that this is not an official translation.

Rev. Kambashi

Today, we read Father's speech during Hoon Dok Hae. Father started the meeting by saying "These words are like my words from my diary. So you can find only truthfulness in every page. You must become children who resemble their parents.

Father started the Geneva assembly by saying "What is the difference between True Parents and your parents? Before human history started, there had been one (ideal of) True Parents and there will be only one True Parents even after the providence is completed," and True Mother concluded by reading the speech.

Father said during dinner time "A humanistic way of thinking will not work. You cannot do things by yourself either. Only when the spirit world cooperates, anything will be possible. This is true and good to listen to."
